PURE DEMOCRACY AND CLEAN POLITICS SEEN IN AUSTRALIA

PROF. JOHN COX PRAISES UNIVERSITY SYSTEM OF THE AUSTRALIANS AT WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB

In presenting Professor John Cox as guest and speaker at the Women's Canadian Club luncheon Saturday, the president, Mrs. Reford, remarked that such a distinguished and familiar figure as Professor Cox needed no introduction to McGill and Montreal. It was a suggestive tribute to the esteem in which he was held in the city where he had made his home for twenty years that, scarcely three minutes after his return, the Club had secured his promise to address them on this occasion.

Professor Cox, by way of introduction, reminded his audience that he would be much more at ease and in his natural element were he to address them on some difficult scientific subject. However, in sketching his recent Australian tour, he would try to emphasize as clearly as possible the outstanding impressions that he had received. The first of these was that Australia was a very long way off and this impression became distinctly defined before the Southern Cross came into view, climbing overhead, and attracted the traveller's attention to the wonderful brilliancy of the southern sky. The constellations are not so marked as in the North but the general effect is indescribably glorious.

Speaking of the climate, Professor Cox likened the Australian winter to a fine day in June in England and painted its immense advantage to the pioneer, who could live outdoors in comfort during the entire season. He next outlined briefly the most noteworthy physical features of Australia, describing in turn the charmingly situated island city of Perth; Adelaide, "city of culture and of churches;" Sidney, with its picturesque hills and river; Brisbane, where he met an ex-McGill man, Dr. (Continued on page 2.)

MCGILL'S WRESTLERS GIVE EXHIBITION AT UNION SMOKER

SATURDAY EVENING'S PROGRAMME EXCEPTIONABLY INTERESTING—MUSIC AND RECITATIONS

On Saturday evening there was "some time" at the Union in every sense of the term. The Wrestling Club smoker lived up to expectations and proved a most enjoyable function. The wrestling exhibitions were all of a high order and the musical and recitation numbers made a big hit.

The programme opened with a bout between Bone and McPhail. The latter has the advantage in weight but Bone made up in speed and aggressiveness. Both are new boys at the game this year and their performance was extremely creditable. After a stiff tussle each man got a fall, and the bout was declared a draw.

A piano solo from Mr. Taylor was greatly appreciated. Then Mr. Croley rendered one of his songs and was applauded enthusiastically.

The second bout on the programme was between McCrudden and Knowles also two new hands at the game. Knowles won out through weight and science.

The popular "Jonsy" entertained the audience to selections from R. W. Service, whose spirit and atmosphere seem to find in him an exponent of rare aptness and enthusiasm.

Werry and Ford gave a fast, snappy bout which was even for four minutes of the six. Then Werry tired and Ford took the second and deciding falls. The first fall went to Werry in 3½ minutes. Ford got his in 1 minute and 1½ minutes.

UNDERGRADS HEAR DEAN OF MEDICINE AT LAST MEETING

DR. SHEPHERD MAKES RARE DEMONSTRATION ON FRIDAY EVENING—MUSICAL NUMBERS SUCCESSFUL

The last meeting of the Medical Society for this year was held on Friday evening in the Medical Building, and was voted an unusual success by all present. In spite of the proximity of Christmas exams a large number of students from all years were present, attracted no doubt by the inducement of a lecture from our popular Dean, Dr. Shepherd.

The entertainment of the evening opened by a well-rendered piano duet by Messrs. Malone and Gowdy. Then followed the feature of the evening, a talk from Dr. Shepherd, who chose as his subject, Dermatology—a branch of medicine in which he has attained a very wide reputation. Dr. Shepherd spoke chiefly of the more rare and interesting cases which had come under his observation and presented the subject in a way which proved instructive as well as entertaining—nor was the amusing side forgotten. The fifth year men will look forward to a second lantern lecture on the same subject, which Dr. Shepherd has promised to give some time during the winter.

Mr. MacDermot of Med '14 read a short paper of historical interest, which was thoroughly appreciated. We hope that more such papers will follow—such side-issues of our course are not only interesting but stimulate us to take a more "human" interest in the subjects we pursue.

Mr. C. R. Bourne presented a case for diagnosis, introducing a few innovations in the way of questions on symptoms, prognosis and treatment. It is difficult to say who carried off the honors, but probably Messrs. Henderson and MacNutt have the highest claims.

The Society will hold its next meeting soon after the winter session begins, the exact date to be announced later in the "Daily."

FAMOUS FOOTBALL HERO PURSUED BY WENDIGOS

SAFE REFUGE FOUND IN THE OFFICE OF THE DAILY.

Mr. Daniel P. Gillmor twice Captain of the Senior Football team and paragon of the athletic heroes of Canada, has had some very weird experiences of late according to an interview recently granted to the Daily. The result is that Mr. Gillmor is now thoroughly convinced of the existence and the dire possibilities of what is commonly regarded as merely a mythical animal. The WENDIGO was known in ancient times as a semi-ape-like bird with ominous powers and a dread presence. It appears at rare intervals under special circumstances. One of these was on Saturday night at 11.30 when Dan was passing through the Campus on his way home from a little outing on the Mountain. He was suddenly seized by a strange and indefinable terror and, obeying an irresistible impulse to look back he saw a horrible apparition standing out in huge outlines against the night sky. His first thought was to tackle but on being baffled by the apparently immaterial character of the Wendigo he decided to seek shelter in the office of the Daily.

Here we were able to give him comfort and security as the Wendigo found it utterly impossible to endure the atmosphere of the editorial office. A thorough investigation along strictly unprejudiced scientific and psychological lines is being instituted a full account of which will appear in OUR SPECIAL CHRISTMAS EDITION NEXT SATURDAY—WATCH FOR IT.

Dr. William T. Scott '97 was married on Thursday of last week to Miss Hemsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hemsley of Hamilton, Ont. Dr. Scott resides at 2297 Park Avenue, Montreal.

PURE DEMOCRACY

Steele, the inventor of the Steele Balance, and Melbourne, enthusiastic in the development of agriculture. It is interesting to note the educational progress of these cities, three of them having excellent universities. With regard to further impressions of Australian cities an outstanding one is that every town builds a race-course before it builds a church.

Social conditions are marked, first and last, for their prosperity. This portion of the Empire restricts immigration and looks to a consequently slow but sound development. Natural resources are practically boundless and offer tremendous possibilities.

Of the population, the men are vigorous and healthy, but the women are rather frail, owing to the necessary confinement indoors during the excessively hot season. Class distinction is very faintly marked; we find a cordial, democratic, good-fellowship. Old and young are keen after amusement and prefer pleasure-hunting to church-going, a characteristic not altogether confined to Australia among the daughters of the Empire. The people are more closely akin to the English than the Canadians, speaking in soft, well-modulated voices, "and at this distance it is safe to note a strong Cockney accent." Quoting Mrs. Cox, the Professor described them as "English with a dash of sunshine through."

Touching briefly on the political situation, we find that government is controlled, for the most part by the Labour party, with a marked enthusiasm for the welfare of the masses. Every man and the women of the artisan classes, are keen politicians. The women of the more cultured classes display less interest in affairs of state. That their interest will eventually be roused is to be looked for, because, after all, politics are really a part of religion and every intelligent citizen should share the responsibility of the welfare of the state and regard this responsibility as a religious duty. Coming home to Canada, Prof. Cox pointed out that, whether she has a vote or not, every woman must share the responsibility "as a mother, sister, or other man's sister," and by meeting out social ostracism to those who fail to come up to the high standard of political integrity she can do much to raise and maintain that lofty standard. Australian politics are markedly clean and representative of that "growth in the spirit of brotherhood throughout the world" for the cultivation of which all high-minded men and women are striving. We as Canadians, have a high mission in this endeavour.

MCGILL'S WRESTLERS

Sid Kirby's piano selections were repeatedly encored and he was kept working over time. Sid is a handy man at all such functions.

Bill Hughes and Hooper, both old-timers showed lots of science and speed, doing some very snappy work. Hughes got a fall in 30 secs. and Hooper took one in 1.40. There was no deciding fall. Instructor Smith looks upon Hughes as the coming welter-weight champion of the colleges.

Armand Chenier at the piano played in his customary charming manner. Armitage (142 lb.) and G. Hughes (135 lb.) then came on the mat and put up what Instructor Smith regarded as the best bout of the evening. It was a case of the heady work of Armitage against a more experienced but lighter opponent. There were no fouls and neither man secured a fall.

Mr. Church then gave a reading which parodied the Charge of the Light Brigade in a side-splitting humorous fashion. Mr. Warren's song brought into play all his excellent vocal powers and took very well with the audience.

As a grand finale to the programme Bill Hughes and Fred Clawson came on in a bout of science versus strength. It was a marvelous exhibition of what science lies at the back of successful wrestling, and how great strength alone is utterly helpless if opposed to this science. Several holds were used in this bout which were calculated to amuse the more curious in the crowd.

The programme was universally voted an immense success from every point of view. The "free smokes" supplied by down-town tobacconists were enjoyed to the full. No one present could help being impressed by the masterly manner in which Mr. Smith handled his proteges.

Interviewed later in the evening, Mr. Smith made a special appeal for more middle and heavy weights. Mr. Patrick O'Brien is by himself at present as the sole heavy-weight candidate and from what the Instructor says "Pat" is "some boy." But he needs competition in order to get the best out of himself.

PHYSICAL SOCIETY

The members of the Physical Committee had the privilege, on Thursday, of listening to an extremely interesting address by Professor Cox, who was for a number of years Professor of Physics at McGill. Professor Cox has recently made an extensive tour of Australia, at the invitation of the Australian Government, addressing the leading Australian Universities, and also visiting New Guinea and Japan. He is now passing through Canada on his way home to England. His address, which consisted in impressions and reminiscences of his journey, was thoroughly enjoyed by all who were fortunate enough to be present.

Leighton Stewart, B. Sc., '10 has returned to Mexico to take up a position as Mining Engineer under Mr. C. B. Hamilton.

THE WRESTLING CLUB

Saturday evening's smoker at the Union with its highly interesting demonstration of wrestling in various forms was a distinct reminder that in one branch of sport at least McGill men should turn out in larger numbers. Straight amateur wrestling, regarded entirely apart from the sensory features of its professional prototype, is indisputably a splendid means for the all-round physical and moral development of the individual student. We have long since passed the stage of regarding wrestling as a brutal sport. When it is made to conform strictly to the well-understood and generally accepted scientific and sportsmanlike axioms it takes a very high place in the category of athletic exercises.

To render the muscles supple, to make the participant acute and agile, to engender in him a wholesome respect for fair competition and the supremacy of the "fittest"—wrestling is unequalled. To imagine that because one has not a set of highly developed muscles and great natural agility on which to start is any adequate reason for not "taking a chance at the game" is utter folly. It is well-known that many excellent wrestlers are "self-made" in every sense of the term. An element of perseverance and doggedness will see anyone through.

As a recognized sport wrestling was much in vogue in ancient times among both Greeks and Romans. In one form or another it survived down until the present time. As a pure science, however, wrestling was not developed until the last quarter of the nineteenth century. During the last forty years a big volume of literature has been written on the subject of wrestling. To-day the many proposed codes and rules have been drafted down until a final system remains. This system secures a maximum amount of physical development with the minimum of danger. It involves more positive science than any other sport in the athletic calendar.

The McGill Wrestling Club for the past five years has had the services of one of the best available wrestling instructors in the person who has also assisted the M. A. A. A. and the Royal Scots. Mr. Smith is deeply interested in the well-being of the McGill Club and he feels confident that if the students would turn out in greater numbers, the long list of defeats would be brought to a sudden end. At present he finds the Club strong on welterweights and light-weights and fair on special weights. As the grading is from 105 to 158 pounds it is almost impossible for a man to be up against a dangerously superior opponent unless he so chooses. What the Club is badly in need of is a lot more middle and heavy-weights. At present there is only one heavy-weight in training and he cannot be expected to show championship style without keen competition.

We trust that McGill men will recognize the needs of the wrestling club and give this branch of athletics far more support this year. Up to the present there have been only twenty men in active training. Until this is extended to 35 or 40 the work of the Club will be seriously handicapped. The men need competition and VARIETY in competition. Until this is secured chances against Queen's and Toronto will be slim. Here's to the wrestling club, may they continue to carry out their present ambitious programme and meet with the best of results and benefit accordingly the whole athletic status of McGill.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Daily will not appear on Thursday, publication being suspended on that date in order that due preparations can be made for our special Christmas Edition next Saturday. Contributions of a literary nature are urgently solicited. These must be in the hands of the editors by Wednesday noon. We are sure that there is a considerable mass of latent talent among the undergraduates which only requires to be stirred. Our Christmas issue will have a circulation in excess of 2,500 so that budding geniuses should not lose such a splendid opportunity of presenting themselves before the University public.

The Daily regrets that the official report of the Conservatory Concert does not appear until to-day. Our special staff representative in the Conservatorium did not contribute the news article appearing on Saturday. We would now draw particular attention to a critical appreciation of what was one of the season's rarest treats in musical circles.

The Basketball Team is covering itself with glory. Two clean-cut wins on two successive nights against two strong teams bodes well for the season.

BASKETBALL TEAM WINS TWO FAST GAMES ON SUCCESSIVE NIGHTS

FAMOUS CENTRAL "Y" TEAM VANQUISHED BY MCGILL—DAZZLING COMBINATION TOO MUCH FOR CITY AGGRESSIONS—PROSPECTS BRIGHT

SUPERIOR COMBINATION AND FAST PASSING THE FEATURES.

On Friday night the McGill Basketball team did some splendid work and showed a style of play which sends McGill's intercollegiate stock fairly soaring. Superior combination and fast passing on the part of McGill kept R. R. Y. M. C. A. guessing at all stages. Still the R. R. team was by no means weak, and if it had not experienced so much difficulty in finding McGill's basket the score would have been much closer. From present outlook, McGill looks good to win the city honours. The line-up was as follows:

R. R. Y. M. C. A.	McGill.	Y. M. C. A.	McGill.
Tate	Geo. Kennedy	Sanders	Defence
Marshall	Lee Smith	Beecher	"
G. Brownrigg	G. L. Baldwin	Forbes	Centre
W. Brownrigg	G. E. Reid	Armstrong	Forward
Watson	R. S. Twitchell	Donaldson	"
Referee — Sam Bucher.		Spares — Reid, Twitchell.

Played Friday evening, Dec. 8.

Following on the heels of this came another win on Saturday, when McGill trimmed the Central Y. M. C. A. The combination on the part of the Red and White was even better than on the previous night and snappy, even dazzling ball was seen throughout. At half time the score stood 17-15 for McGill; at full time 38-33 for McGill.

When it is considered that last year the "Y" beat Varsity's champion team it will be seen that McGill is greatly improved and will be right on the job in the Intercollegiate.

Saturday night's line-up was as follows:

Y. M. C. A.	McGill.
Sanders	Defence
Beecher	"
Forbes	Centre
Armstrong	Forward
Donaldson	"
Spares — Reid, Twitchell.

MCGILL CONSERVATORIUM ORCHESTRA GIVES REMARKABLY FINE CONCERT

LARGE AND CRITICAL AUDIENCE GREATLY PLEASED AT INTERPRETATIONS OF THE MASTERS—A REAL TRIUMPH FOR DR. PERRIN AND HIS PUPILS

The concert given by the McGill Conservatorium Orchestra in the Royal Victoria College Hall on Wednesday evening was largely attended and proved very enjoyable. Following is the programme:

1. Allegro in F. (1st movement of Symphony No. 8) ..... Beethoven McGill University Orchestra.
2. "Rose Softly Blooming".....Spahr Miss Stuart.
3. Allegro Moderato (1st movement of Concerto No. 22) .....Viotti Violin Soloist, Miss Jamieson.
4. Song, (a) "The Years at the Spring," ..... Beach.
- (b) "Lovely Night" .....Landon Ronald Miss McCaffrey.

5. (a) Romance (for strings only).
- (b) Lang Intermezzo ..... Sibelius
6. Allegro Con Brio (1st movement of Concerto in C Major, Op. 15) ..... Beethoven.
- Pianoforte Solo, Miss De Sola.
7. (a) Berceuse .....Jarnfelt.
- (b) Periludium ..... Jarnfelt.
- The Orchestra.
8. Vocal Duet, Recitation and Soprano Solo (Act I, Lakme)... Delibes. Misses Panneton and Goldstein.
9. Danse Orientale ..... Lubomirsky.
- The Orchestra.

God Save the King. Such numbers as the Concerto — Viotti, Symphony and Beethoven concerto, are naturally far ahead of what one would expect to hear from a student body. These with the other three numbers show the lighter as well as the scholastic side of the programme, which McGill as a University always considers. Dr. Perrin with his love for what is highest in music inspired his students to do their best as was shown by the way in which they responded, particularly in playing Romance — Sibelius and Periludium — Jarnfelt.

The violin solo played by Miss Jamieson was particularly good and she showed control over her instrument; while Miss Ross who took the part of first violin in Berceuse, played particularly well and both reflect the work of their teacher. Miss De Sola played pianoforte concerto exceptionally well, despite the fact it was her first public appearance.

The vocal solos given by Miss Stuart and Miss McCaffrey were particularly pleasing.

The duet by Miss Panneton and Miss Goldstein was remarkable, their voices blended beautifully and proved that it was not beyond their powers to give Act I. in Lakme. This was fully appreciated by the audience, which expressed its pleasure in tremendous applause.

HOCKEY RUMORS MISLEADING

Everywhere you see a number of students talking together you may at once say with almost certainty that hockey is the subject. We published a few days ago an official account of all announcements that were important, but someone has not been satisfied with that and has rumored around that we were to have a professional coach. The names of Alf. Smith and Bruce Stuart have been mentioned but we can say officially that this is false. The present manager, Mr. Louisie Roberts, is to have full control over the team and will coach the team himself. Probably the part of the rumors was the item published by the Star but this was incorrect and without foundation.

BUSINESS MANAGER NOW CONVALESCENT

Mr. E. Ballentyne Reid, well-known as business manager of the Daily and as a keen McGill man in everything, has been unwell for the past week. An attack of La Grippe, accentuated by a somewhat run-down constitution was responsible. We are glad to be able to report his rapid recovery. He is expected to be back to lectures today.

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor McGill Daily,

Dear Sir:—I was glad to see in Thursday's issue of the "Daily" some criticism of the proposed new "M" Rules.

If there is one thing the committee wish to avoid it is that these rules should go before the Athletic Association without an intelligent discussion by the Student Body; and criticism, especially if it be of the thoughtful type that has appeared so far, is more than welcome.

"T. G. R." and "Critic" are agreed that all members of the Intercollegiate Tennis Team should receive the first grade plain "M," and from what one hears around College, many others are of the same opinion. Speaking personally, and not for the Committee, I can say that I think the rules might quite well be altered in this respect PROVIDED THAT THE STUDENTS INTERESTED IN ATHLETICS ARE AGREED AS TO ITS ADVISABILITY.

It is a significant fact, however, that when W. T. Pearce wrote to the A. A. asking that a big "M" be given for tennis, he applied for it for the winners of the singles and doubles only. It was his letter that guided us in the formation of the new rule.

Nearly all the American Universities give a special kind of letter for tennis.

Mr. Galloway claims that the new rules are too complicated. "Critic" says they are not. The Committee believe that they could not be made any simpler without decided injustice to the participants in many of our sports, and consequent lessening of the incentive to take part.

It is quite easy to read the regulations through and condemn them as complicated, but it would be quite another matter to frame up a new set without calling forth just howls of protest. As to Mr. Galloway's suggestion to let the Intermediate Hockey and Football teams rank as minors; this, I am convinced would be a very poor move, destroying at once our distinction between major and minor sports.

The only significance of the blocks on the major "M's" is that they represent the fact that the distinction was won in a major sport.

Mr. Galloway also claims that the second grade block "M" is better than the first grade minor "M." This is quite a matter of opinion. Personally I think the reverse is true.

He and "Critic" both think that five points are too high a qualification for winning the first grade "M" in an Intercollegiate Track Meet. The Committee believe that five points are just the figure that should be adhered to. If a man is a specialist in one event, he ought to be good enough to win it. By far the greater part of our track team, however, take part in at least two events. I would like to point out that a second place in an event and a place on the winning relay team would secure the coveted "M" for a man, and this is surely not too high a standard, as the relay race is suited to a great variety of runners, from sprinters to half-mile men.

A greater appreciation of the simplicity of our proposed rules would be arrived at if one could see the badge rules of some of the American Universities. Yale, for instance, have the University "Y," an AYA, Class numerals; BYB for basketball; HYT for hockey; TTY for tennis; AYF for Soccer; GYT for golf; WYA for wrestling; SYA for swimming and FYT for fencing.

Syracuse have a block S, aSA, bSB, cSC, and a special old English S for tennis.

Critic mentions the liability to confusion due to similarity of size between the new minor "M" and the old "M." I cannot see that much harm would result from this similarity, and believe that the better course would be to let the old "M's" die out during the next three or four years, rather than making the old rules retroactive, a proceeding which would be most difficult in its working out, due to lack of the necessary information.

There is something to be said for his objection that many freshmen are prevented from one course or another from playing in their second year and succeeding years, and upon looking back—again speaking for myself and not for the Committee—I think we have been too hard upon the poor freshman.

I would upon no account let him wear an "M" in his first year, but it might be advisable to give him the "M" he won as Freshman as soon as he had returned to College in his second year. This would alter the last clause of the new rules.

I enclose our letter from the Cornell University Athletic Association, in the hope that you will find space to publish it. It is typical of those that we received from American Universities.

Yours truly,

K. W. DOWIE.

Mr. George C. McDonald, Athletic Association, McGill University, Montreal, Canada.

Dear Sir:—Your letter of the 4th not received in this office until the 22nd inst., and I take pleasure in giving you the desired information as follows:

The men in the branches of Major Sports, such as football, baseball, track and crew, are at the close of their season awarded Cornell's "C's" at the recommendation of the coach, captain and manager, such recommendation based on the number of games played or whether a man was in the Varsity boat. Also after two or three years of hard work a man is given his "C" for special merit.

The Minor Sports "C's" are awarded to men composing the Minor Sports teams that win Intercollegiate championship. These men also have to be recommended by the captain, manager and coach. The Minor Sports teams not winning championship are awarded Minor Sports "C's" with the initials of the team. For instance, the Lacrosse Team would receive a Minor Sports "C" with a small (L. T.) inside, etc.

The numerals are awarded class teams winning class championships or interclass championships. In case of freshman track, football, baseball and crew, they are awarded numerals if they win in dual meets with another University, the numerals being given for track for the first, second and third places.

The recommendations for numerals, "C's", etc., are made to the Insignia Committee, which is a committee appointed from the Major Sports Council and are recommended by the Insignia Committee to the various councils. The Council action taken resulting in the awarding of the letters.

Trusting this will answer your purpose, I am,

Very truly yours,

G. E. KENT.

Assistant Graduate Manager.

Editor McGill Daily,

Dear Sir:—Considerable indignation has been aroused among the First Year men by the unfortunate tone of "A Graduate's" letter which appeared in your issue of December 7. It is a pity that the writer could not manage to bring forward these two perfectly legitimate proposals without contriving by his unwarranted allegations and offensive language to arouse the resentment of the entire first year! If the matter had been put up to us in the right way the probability is that the majority of the Freshmen would be sportsman-like enough to comply to any reasonable request. Instead of that the writer has aroused the opposition of every man in the first year to his proposals, and that will probably be sufficient to effectually prevent any action in the matter for some time to come.

Among other things he mentions "the abominable conduct of the underclassmen." To what does he refer? Can he point out a single instance in which the freshman have intentionally disregarded the customs or codes of the University? I think not. The freshmen have been treated on the whole in a most friendly and gentlemanly manner by the other years, and, in return, have endeavoured to show courtesy and respect where courtesy and respect were due. If we have failed in some fine matters of etiquette, it was only because of ignorance—our predominant trait—or because we did not think we were getting a square deal in the matter.

"A Graduate" regrets the passing of the "rush." So do we. The "pink tea" idea appeals to very few of us, but as no effective substitute was suggested, the Medicine and Science freshmen have already banqueted the Second Year classes, and it is expected that the Arts banquet or smoker, or what-not will take place soon after Christmas.

Just a final word as to the impracticability of the scheme proposed by our friend. He proposes that all the freshmen should be required to wear a cap or some other "badge common to their tribe," and also to take off their hats to seniors. Now who would enforce these rules? The sophomores would doubtless attempt to, aided more or less by the juniors PERSONALS.

And seniors, but the Freshmen year is numerically considerably the largest in the University, so it would be rather a difficult task. The proposal that we should be required to take off our hats to the seniors has another disadvantage. The freshmen do not get to know all the seniors until towards the end of the college year—and sometimes not at all. The only solution would be for the se-

THE CAMPUS RINK NEARING SHAPE

For some days past "Jimmie" and his men have been busily at work getting the rink on the Campus in order for the coming season. Wooden sides have been placed around the rink and some attempt has been made to get a foundation for an ice surface. Although the mild weather of the past few days has been decidedly unfavorable for making ice, still the work done in the earlier part of the week has not been entirely in vain, and the rink will be opened just as soon as the weather permits.

In previous years a season ticket with three coupons of admission to hockey games attached was sold for $2.25. The committee in charge, however, has this year decided to abolish this combination ticket, and the moderate price of $2 should not prevent any student from enjoying the privileges which the rink affords. The rink deserves the support of the student body and it is an institution where good values are received for money paid out. There will be skating from 4.30 to 7 p. m. every evening of the week except Saturday, and the best of music will be provided.

Saturday afternoon will be reserved for class matches and year games. The various classes of the different faculties should send in their choice of hours for hockey practices immediately to enable the committee to draw up the schedule before the opening of the season, which will probably take place during the coming week.

The rink committee consists of H. L. Smith Arts '12, Chairman; Alan Scath Sci. '12; Howard Dixon Med. '13. All communications regarding the rink should be addressed to the Chairman at Strathcona Hall.

career as a novelist.

There are many students working their way through the various colleges. Among these institutions Columbia has made a record for the amount of money earned by its students. The employment bureau of Columbia which secures work for students states that Columbia students earned more than $75,000 last year. Students tried their hand at every kind of employment from acting as a secretary to a National Reform Board down to brick laying.

Nearly one-half of the total earnings by the students were made during the summer vacation of 1910 when the students earned $7,877.94 with the aid of the committee, and $24,438.61 without its aid. The students made $43,322.40 during the academic year.

The report of the committee says that the determining factor is the student himself. If he has ability, perseverance, and energy, he will almost certainly sooner or later, find employment.

The students at Princeton University have organized a Princeton Club of the Woodrow Wilson League of College Men for the purpose of furthering the movement for Dr. Wilson's nomination for President of the United States on the Democratic ticket.

A committee from the Cosmopolitan Club of the University of Pennsylvania has been appointed to become acquainted with foreigners as soon as they register at the University and assist them in any way possible.

Several changes have been made in the entrance examination of the Shetland, and a student can herein has been dropped from the re-fined School of Yale University. La- after enter and go through the school without that subject. Fifteen units remain as requirements for entrance and English and mathematics are retained, the former counting as three and the latter as four units. But in the other eight units there is an elective system.

The Municipal Club at Princeton is having a series of speeches on municipal questions by prominent speakers.

At Cornell University credit is given in any of the academic courses for work in the University orchestra.

HISTORICAL CLUB

The last meeting of the Historical Club before Christmas was held in the engineering building on Thursday, Dec. 7th. The subject of the evening was English Historians, which was dealt with in an able and interesting manner. Mr. J. C. Heaton gave the first paper on Edward Gibbon. The speaker in a very interesting manner gave a description of the life and a short criticism of the work of the author. Gibbon had received a somewhat stunted education in his youth owing to illness but had entered Magdalen College, Oxford, from which he was compelled to depart owing to conversion to Roman Catholic faith. The historian was subsequently reclaimed to Calvinism. Gibbon was of course noted solely for his great work "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire." This took 23 years of work and was commenced in London and finished on the Continent. Since there had been no great historical work up till 1750, a great opportunity was open to the historian, who was born early in the eighteenth century. Gibbon was possessed of a singularly broad mind. The first volume though it took longest to prepare is inferior to the others and only towards the end does it approach the true style. The great blot in his work is the treatment of the Christians; this was probably due to the change of his religion when his religious spirit became more or less dormant. He is the one Historian of the 18th century whom modern research has not laid aside.

Mr. H. L. Johnson then delivered his paper on Thomas Macaulay. After a rapid sketch of Macaulay's life the speaker devoted his time to an account of the works of this great man and a criticism of his style, which gave a clear and interesting view of his faults and virtues. Macaulay was called to the bar but this work did not appeal to him. During most of his life he represented Edinburgh in Parliament and is considered one of its greatest orators. Most of the essays for which he was so famous were written in odd moments and practically all were written for the Edinburgh Review. This style is vigorous and treatment is brief. The essay on Milton was one of the first. This most famous historical effort was of course the History of England of which only five volumes were written. To finish the work 100 years or more would have been required. Macaulay was opposed to the idea prevalent in his day of writing history. His idea was to write it so as to read as though it were spoken and to flow as freely as table talk. He fails to give expression to the movements of the times of which he writes and is not very much read. His diffuseness and lack of historical spirit are criticized.

Dr. Fryer then addressed a few words to the Club during which he gave a further criticism of Macaulay and made some remarks on Claverdon, who should have been discussed by Mr. Huggess. Dr. Fryer said that Macaulay was not as much appreciated by younger men as by older.

Prof. Wells spoke for a short time, expressing his admiration of Gibbon. He pointed out that Gibbon was still the greatest authority on Roman Empire and spoke of the 44th, 50th and 51st chapters as of exceptional merit. In conclusion Dr. Wells made a few remarks on John Stuart Mill.

A MUSICAL EDUCATION

FOR A QUARTER

As such may the Saturday afternoon opera concerts be truly described, and that of Saturday, December 9th was no exception to the rule. The triumph of the afternoon was the interpretation of Litz's second Rhapsodie, by M. Hasselmans and his talented confreres. At the conclusion of this rendition the hall filled with enthusiasm, occasioning a general acknowledgement by the whole orchestra.

M. Huberty, at the fifth stage of the programme, could contain himself no longer, and burst into a rollicking song, the potted edition of which would read "Tra-la-la" and again "Tra-la-la—la."

Mme. Pawloska was enthusiastically encouraged and her short crowning effort was much appreciated. This week there was no violin solo included in the programme, an omission which was a source of abiding grief to many of last week's audience. It is announced that the programmes for the next two concerts will be marked by the introduction of several seasonal items.
